

Dr. Pamela Tozzo is a Researcher of Legal Medicine at the Department of Cardiac, Thoracic, Vascular Sciences and Public Health of the University of Padova. She is the holder of the Forensic Medicine course in both Bachelor's and Master's Degree programs at the University of Padua. She is also a lecturer and tutor at the School of Specialization in Forensic Medicine of the same University (and serves as the Quality Manager for the same program). She is a member of the Academic Board of the PhD Program in Pharmacological Sciences at the University of Padua and also serves as a tutor within the same program. She is a member and vice-president of the Territorial Ethics Committee (CET) for the Central-Eastern Veneto Area. She is the author of over 80 scientific publications in international peer-reviewed journals with Impact Factor.